WHERE IS IT ?

IT'S IN CAMPBELL

NATURAL (?) BEAUTY SPOT

But there IS a "lake"...(?)

This may come as a surprise.

But Campbell, almost devoid of natural scenic attractions does have a miniature "lake".

With its placid water reflecting the trees on the bank, the pond in the Los Gatos Creek bed off Poplar Ave. (just north of E. Campbell Ave.) does give the more visionary a chance to do a wee bit of day dreaming.

But the roar from the adjacent freeway, could disturb the dreams a wee bit.

The top photos, however could be of a picturesque mountain hideaway, if you didn't know better.

Unfortunately the water, controlled by the flood control district, does rise and fall, as the lower photo reveals and the "no trespassing" sign explains.

But maybe there still are possibilities....

OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

SINCE THE CREATION of the "Order of the Bell of CampBELL" with Jim Duffield, C of C manager who is soon to leave us, as the first recipient, there has been considerable discussion as to the future plans of the "order".

Will the award be made every year?

Who makes the selection?

As we have mentioned before, the first award to Jim was sort of a spontaneous combustion affair. No thought has been given to the future and there are no by-laws to use as a guide.

Something could be developed perhaps.

But it seems the general thinking of those who have discussed it that it should not be an annual award.

It should be made only when the situation and record of the individual warrants it.

Admittedly that is very indefinite.

But maybe that is the way it should be.

Then again, have you ideas on the subject?

CONCEDING THE USE of a "BELL" for the distinctive order was apropos, a number of other ideas on using the name Campbell have been put forth.

One party suggested, for example, that the theme song at the next ceremony should be "The Campbells are coming etc. etc.".

Another idea, which sort of stands alone, so to speak, was that, inasmuch, as we have been so bell-happy lately with the Duffield ceremony and the Fourth of July coming almost simultaneously, maybe the name of this column should be changed from "Out on the Limb" to "Ringing CampBELL".

To elaborate, instead of the caricature of your editor sitting precariously on the limb which has graced (?) this column for so many years, there could be the caricature of your editor "ringing CampBELL".

But, after so many years with yours truly being out on the limb, it just wouldn't seem right somehow to trade a "limb" for a "bell".

Incidentally, while still on this rather meandering subject, at one of the recent study sessions for the capital improvement program for the city, someone cautioned that, "too ambitious a bond program could be the straw that could break the camel's (Campbell's) back."

That opened a whole new field, which we had better skip at this time.

We had better quit while we are ahead.

Assuming that we are, of course.

HAVING A FLAT TIRE on the freeway is an experience that none of us relish and we certainly would avoid if at all possible.

Thus we were more than just husbandly sympathetic when our Dorothy recently in her little bug had a tire go flat while she was scooting along the freeway.

We weren't with her, but Gin Means was, which was a fortunate

Big storm drain project gets Council approval

Construction of that long-awaited important link in the city's storm drain system, down Campbell Ave. from Second St. to Los Gatos Creek, which has been anticipated with a mixture of anxiety and enthusiasm, depending on circumstances, got the go ahead signal from the City Council Monday night.

Keeping the disruption of the traffic flow on the street to a minimum for the contemplated three-month construction period has been the prime concern of merchants, Chamber of Commerce and city officials. All have been agreed that there will be disruption.

The council ruled Monday, as part of the approval, that detour routes must use streets and not parking lots, with the exception of the use of the Campbell Cooperative Dryer's yard.

The council gave approval to the proposed project, estimated to cost more than $80.000 as outlined by Bill Wren, public works director, and authorized calling for bids. The "time table" calls for the awarding of bids on August 14, and construction to start by the end of August.

The project is expected to be completed in October.

Although it is recognized that the storm drain project was the necessary first step in the eventual improvement of Campbell Ave. and that its installation was also necessary to complete the city's drainage system, all concerned were also aware that the construction would cause considerable upheaval in traffic conditions on the heavily-traveled Campbell Ave.

DOWNTOWN

Wren explained that the completed job will drain the downtown area. The lines will also extend north of Campbell Ave. on

MOST PATRIOTIC--Dressed as Uncle Sam, little Duane Hayes, of 2293 Middletown, took the first place award for the most patriotic costume in the West Rincon Homeowners Assn. "4th of July" kiddie parade on Wren Way, Acapulco and Middletown. (More pictures on page 12 of this issue).

If county leases and bonds pass

City could get $400,000 library

Campbell could get a new $400,000 library, provided a number of conditions are met.

If the county supervisors approve a lease agreement, okayed by the City Council Monday night, a special $400,000 bond issue will be placed on the ballot for voters approval on Oct. 24.

These bonds for the construction of the library will be paid off by lease payments from the county library district over a 25-year period. Thus they will have no bearing on the $3.2 million capital improvement bond program that will also be before the citizens on Oct. 24 which will be paid off by taxes.

The agreement, approved by the City Council and with the blessing of the County Library Commission, is patterned after the same arrangement in effect now in Los Altos where the city constructed the facilities and leased to the county.

Councilman Charles Rose and Dick Hogan, planning director, have handled the city negotiations. Councilman Rose was enthusiastic over the possibility of getting a much-needed library facility for Campbell long before the county library district could swing it.

Rose explained that the county library system which serves Campbell is financed by a special 21-cent library district tax above the general county tax rate. From funds raised in this manner the library system operates the facilities in county areas and also in most of the cities in the county.

But Rose pointed out that the library district has to build up reserves over a long period of time in order to construct facilities even where desperately needed.

Under the proposed agreement, if the county supervisors approve, the facility in Campbell would be constructed years before the county library district would be in a financial position to do the job.

The $400,000 figure would finance the construction of a 12,000 square foot building, as part of the proposed civic center complex, and also the purchase of the land.

Rose also emphasized

Marines have landed

Campbell Union High School District has been authorized next fall to activate a Marine Corps junior ROTC unit, Congressman Charles Gubser informed The Press by phone from Washington, D.C. this week.

The Campbell unit was one of the four (two in California) approved this week.

The Marine Corps is also seeking applications from retired Marine officers and enlisted personnel to serve as instructors. They will receive full pay and allowances.

Interested reservists may apply to the commandant of the Marine Corps, Washington, D.C.

New term on Planning Commission

Council names Chamberlin

Dean R. Chamberlin, long-time Campbell resident and member of the Campbell Union High School District administration staff, was reappointed to the Planning Commission on Monday night by the City Council for a full four-year term.

Chamberlin originally appointed in January to fill the unexpired term of the late Jim Tomlinson, who died in December after serving on the commission continuously from its inception in 1952. The term expires on August 1.

Chamberlin and his wife, Veva, reside at 103 Carlyn. They have two sons, Don, now a graduate student at Stanford, and Jim, who graduated from Campbell High in June and will attend Claremont Men's College this fall.

DEAN CHAMBERLIN

By letter to the Council, Chamberlin had indicated his willingness to continue to serve as a planning commissioner.

Bud Armstrong heads elementary trustees

Campbell Union Elementary School District Board of Trustees elected Vernon I. "Bud" Armstrong as president, succeeding Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong in the office. Ted Sedgwick was elected clerk of the Board.

Armstrong was first appointed to the board on March 24, 1966 to fill the unexpired term of Howard Guilbert who moved to Morgan Hill. With his wife, Gretchen, and sons, Brett, Cary, Dirk and Erick, Armstrong lives at 3613 Londonderry Drive, Santa Clara. He is Communications' Center Manager for Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation in Santa Clara.

Armstrong is a veteran of the United States Air Force where he served as a weather officer after completing his education at Washington State University of Washington.

Both Armstrong and his wife have been active in the Parkway Home and School Club

Teamwork in Campbell

In a community such as Campbell in which there are so many civic problems but where the potential also is great, the need for teamwork on the part of community-spirited citizens is of utmost importance.

Actually it is a challenge of the highest order to be involved in civic improvement projects in this community. There is so much to be done but the results will be rewarding if the objectives are attained.

In addition to civic-teamwork in accomplishing the goals there is also a definite need for utilizing all willing citizens in some phase of civic improvement, for it is to the benefit of all that the goals be reached.

Too often public-spirited citizens, serving voluntarily on civic commissions, committees or boards, become discouraged by the lack of recognition for the efforts they put forth in doing their public service.

On occasion, instead of commendation, the volunteers receive bitter criticism because their findings or rulings do not meet with approval of all concerned.

Yet these volunteer members of these commissions serving without any compensation and devoting countless hours attempting to improve their community in the way they think is best, are completely sincere in their efforts in almost every case.

Yet they are often maligned more than the highest paid executive.

It is difficult to keep from becoming discouraged under such circumstances.

Probably the one group that receives the most abuse and is subjected to more criticism than any other civic body is the Planning Commission.

By the very nature of its organization and functions, the Planning Commission becomes the target for disgruntled developers, unhappy home owners and disgusted business men who feel they haven't had a fair shake before the commission when they have been turned down on their requests.

And that's only a natural reaction, for none of us ever like to lose.

In Campbell, hundreds of requests come before the planners during a year, but, only on rare occasions, is the Planning Commission commended for its actions. It's the "turn-downs" that get emphasis.

And the brickbats far outweigh the bouquets.

Although we have disagreed vigorously, emphatically and vehemently many times with both the findings and often with the philosophy of the Planning Commission, we maintain that the members of the Planning Commission have been utterly sincere in their efforts.

But the commission is especially vulnerable because its decisions can be appealed to the City Council. And the Council can overrule the commission, for the council is the lone legislative body of the city. The commission is purely advisory.

And that sometimes is the rub.

We believe that members of the Planning Commission should be commended for their determined and sincere efforts to "plan" a better community.

We are well aware that often in "planning" toes will be stepped on, for the future of the community is being considered as well as the present.

A Planning Commission decision at times will be an unpopular one, for attempting to reconcile the future with the present is rough without a guaranteed crystal ball.

There will be times because of this "present vs. future" concept that the City Council will overrule the Planning Commission, for the City Council, of necessity, must be more concerned with the present.

But, if these "overrulings" become a habit, then we believe both the Commission and the City Council should take a long, hard look at the situation.

Habitual overrulings, in our opinion, can only mean that there is a misunderstanding somewhere down the line as to what are the objectives of the city as a whole.

Some place the common denominator has been lost.

Of all the communities with which we are familiar, Campbell needs teamwork from all civic groups.

When commissioners and councilmen are at cross-purposes, obviously, the team has its signals crossed.

In checking the records, we find that overrulings by the City Council of Planning Commission decisions have been relatively few, in comparison to the hundreds of routine approvals that have been given.

But, naturally, and this newspaper is as much to blame as anyone else, the "overrulings" have been over-emphasized. That is what stands out. It is not the routine actions.

But, as we said before, no one plays the game to lose. So by the same token, there is bound to be some resentment when the council doesn't go along with the commission.

The danger, of course, is when this resentment grows to such an extent that it develops a wide gulf between the two city bodies. This gulf can be detrimental to the city as a whole.

What we are saying, we guess, is that there are going to be some minor differences of opinions among councilmen and planning commissioners alike as to how best to plan the city.

But these differences should not be allowed to detract from the overall objectives that both civic groups are striving to achieve.

This will not happen when dedicated, public-spirited citizens sincerely try to do the best job they know how for their community.

And that is the case in Campbell.

circumstance. You see we haven't been checked out on changing tires on a VW. In fact we don't know where the spare tire is carried or how or where to use the jack. And our Dorothy wasn't much better.

But Gin had seen a tire changed on a VW before. So the two gals were making pretty fair headway on their own before some kindly soul disobeyed the law and stopped to give the gals a hand.

Before the Good Samaritan did his good turn, hundreds of cars went whizzing by.

After all, it IS against the law to stop on the freeway.

Even for damsels in distress.

But one good thing did come out of the experience.

We have now been told where the spare tire is carried and where the jack goes to raise the flat on the Volkswagon.

Dorothy's not taking any chances.

It just could be that we might be along the next time it happens.

And, for sure, no one would stop then.

It would be a complete do-it-yourself project.

You can make book on that.

WITH OR WITHOUT flat tires, women often do get a better break in many instances, despite this current crusade for equal treatment and all that jazz.

Take for example the Air Force.

Just recently the Air Force opened its recruiting office in the new Bill Oltmann office building at 2275 Winchester Blvd.

Apparently the Air Force is a going concern.

Sgt. Roy Rouse, in charge of the office, told us that they are booking four months ahead.

In other words, the 35 or 40 guys who have been processed at the local office since it opened here on June 15 have a waiting period of that long before they actually will enter the service.

But not so the gals.

Sgt. Rouse explained that just recently the Air Force upped the quota for female airmen. (That can't be right..Shouldn't it be "airwomen"? We'll have to find out. We have been out of the service for too long a time).

The good sergeant added that he is now actively recruiting women.

Sounds like a nice pastime.

But, shucks, Sarge, that's nothing new.

We all have been doing it for years.

Join the club.

HOUSE TRAILERS (whoops, we mean "mobile homes") are becoming more and more popular, we note in the most recent Bank of America "Small Business Reporter".

Actually the B of A report lumps motor homes, travel trailers, truck campers and tent trailers under the term "recreational vehicle". The production of these vehicles has more than tripled over the past five years and is still going up, according to the report. More and more parks are obviously needed to keep pace.

Campbell, up to now, has had a shortage of "mobile home" parks. Actually the second one is now under construction near the Winchester Drive-In.

However in a recent survey by the Post Office department, 135 "house trailers" were listed for possible deliveries in town. (Only four vacancies).

The total survey area for the county showed 6,398 "house trailers" with 205 vacancies. San Jose listed 3,573 and 2,825 in other towns. Sunnyvale had 1,044.

Cupertino, Gilroy and Saratoga had none.

Kennedy heads business area for UF campaign

DON KENNEDY

Don R. Kennedy, manager of Bank of America, Campbell Ave. has been appointed business chairman of Campbell for the 1967 United Fund drive.

Named by Campbell UF Chairman Richard A. Hardy, vice president of The Ainsley Corp., Campbell, Kennedy will coordinate fund-raising efforts among more than 450 businesses in the community.

Companies listed in the business division employ 10 or fewer persons and include retail businesses such as restaurants, clothing shops, service stations, and grocery stores.

Funds which Kennedy helps raise as business chairman will be used to support the operating costs of 77 health and welfare organizations in the county this year. All United Fund organizations are operated on a non-profit, non-governmental basis and depend largely on the annual contributions of donors through the United Fund drive.

"The county-wide goal this year is nearly 10 per cent higher than last year, which is necessary to meet the rising demands for more service placed upon these agencies. We can meet that goal by pledging our 'fair share' gift," Kennedy said.

In addition to the business division, the Campbell area also includes the commerce and industry, education, city employees, professional, and residential divisions. Campbell's goal this year is $45,797, which is more than $4,000 over the amount raised last year.

Kennedy is a member of the Campbell Rotary and is also director of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce. He resides in Los Gatos with his wife, Vivian, and two children: Donald, 16 and Janet, 12.

Storm drain

Harrison to Grant and then west on Grant to Second. He also said that it will be "stubbed" on the south side of Central so to eventually tie in the area south of Campbell Ave. into the main trunk.

The main trunk will go down the south side of Campbell Ave. from Second St. to the railroad crossing. From the railroad east the trunk will move to the north side to its ultimate termination at the creek.

SOME SLAB

Wren ruefully pointed out that the change from the south side to the north side after crossing the tracks was necessary because of a surprise that had been "discovered" in their exploratory operations.

His department found that under the present surface of Campbell Ave. from the railroad to the creek was a concrete slab which apparently was formerly the roadway. Rather than go through the slab they moved to the opposite side of the street.

He said also that it was planned to have the contractor start the project at the railroad crossing where "boring" will be necessary.

From there the job could go either way, he explained.

ONE BLOCK

Council gave approval also to Wren's stipulation that one of the requirements of the job would be that the contractor in going down Campbell Ave. would take one block at a time, thus the detours would only be necessary for one block.

The suggested detours gave the councilmen some concern. They felt that the suggestion to use the parking lot north of Campbell Ave. and through the city hall parking lot would not be advisable. They thus specified that the detours should only be on streets, except through the drying yard.

Wren pointed out that another condition of the contract would be that one traffic lane (westbound) would always be open on Campbell Ave.

He felt that it would be possible, therefore, because of block-by-block construction, to put all detour traffic on the south side, using Everett as well as the dryer yard rather than go north to Grant.

He thought that the contractor could also complete one block in a week or 10 days.

Council overrules commission

By a 4-1 vote (Mayor Ed Rogers dissenting) the City Council on Monday night overruled the Planning Commission with respect to conditions attached to a proposed P-D (planned development) zoning for property at Llewellyn and Hamilton.

It was the second time that the issue had come before the City Council.

The Planning Commission had originally approved the development plans for the property, owned by the Bykowski family. The plans call for a commercial complex on the shallows parcels, including a Gulf Oil Co. service station, an Orange Julius and two other buildings.

Fred Chez and Lowell Grattan, local developers, represented the Bykowski family in the presentation.

But in approving the plans, the commission specified that construction of the service station could not be started until the other buildings were underway and that the present buildings be removed when the building permit was issued.

The applicants opposed the conditions. A majority of the council felt that the conditions were slightly discriminatory because they had not applied before in similar situations.

The matter was then referred back to the commission for futher study of the conditions.

But the commission stood firm the second time around.

The council then on Monday by a 4-1 vote overruled the commission's decision eliminating the service station clause and modifying the building removal time limit to 30 days.

City Attorney Joseph Bonacina ruled that the action by the council was not an "appeal" and thus only a majority vote was necessary of the council to overrule the commission instead of a four-fifths majority.

Before the council acted Monday night, there was a verbal exchange between Chez and Bonacina as to what had transpired in the first council meeting.

Chez maintained that it had not been necessary for the matter to be referred back to the Planning Commission and that the council could have modified the conditions without the referral.

He maintained that was stated at the first council meeting, although the minutes did not reflect this. He thought the minutes should be changed.

Bonacina explained that the minutes need not be a complete report of a meeting.

In other actions, the council adopted the ordinance controlling disabled vehicles in front yards and set the hearing date for the Lovell annexation for August 8.

The council also adopted the resolution (Councilman Rose dissenting) which executed the annual agreement with the Campbell Chamber of Commerce. The council has allocated $12,500 to the C of C this year. The first installment of $6,350 was paid on Monday.

Under claims also the council approved the expense allowance of $600 for Mayor Ed Rogers to attend the conference of the National League of Cities in Boston, Mass., this month.

The council has approved a total expenditure of $3,175 for traveling expenses for councilmen to the Boston conference or to a later one to be held in Washington, D.C.

Linda Hartigan says vows

MRS. NEAL R. COATES

Linda Hartigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Hartigan of 293 N. Esther St., Campbell, changed her name to Mrs. Neal R. Coates, at a beautiful wedding ceremony at the First Methodist Church of Campbell.

Rev. William H. Gould officiated at the double ring ceremony attended by 200 friends of the couple. The brunette bride was lovely in a gown of organza and Chantilly lace styled with Sabrina neckline, long sleeves and Cathedral length Chantilly lace train. Her shoulder length veil was secured with a pearl covered pill box head piece. She carried a cascade of white carnations centered with an orchid.

Miss Carol Burda, attired in a powder blue Empress style gown, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids Mrs. Gary Anderson of San Jose, Denise Potter and Joyce Potter of Campbell and flower girl Merrilee Hartigan, sister of the bride, also wore powder blue gowns. Dennis W. Coates stood with his brother as the best man. Ushers were Frank J. Fonteyn, Joe A. Gobert and Mike J. Hartigan.

A reception was held in the gardens of the Saratoga home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Coates, the bridegroom's parents. Guests were seated poolside near the bride's table which was centered with a three tiered wedding cake.

Following a honeymoon to Lake Tahoe and Los Angeles, the newlyweds are making their home in San Jose.

Linda is a 1966 graduate of Campbell High School and is now attending Bryant and Stratton Business College.

Neal is a graduate of Cupertino High School and attended Foothill Junior College. He is employed by I.B.M. Corp.

California Girls State stresses citizenship

California Girls State, part of a great national youth-in-government program which is sponsored annually by the American Legion Auxiliary, held sessions at the University of California at Davis last week.

Beth Adrianne Wildermann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph P. Wildermann, 236 N. First St., Campbell, was elected an assemblyman at the sessions.

An Oakland girl, Marian Virginia Jeffery, 18, was elected Governor. Her election was a victory for the Whig party. Judge Jacqueline Taber, Girls' State political lecturer, administered the oath of office. Marian will represent California Girls State at Girls Nation at Washington, D.C. July 30-August 5.

Activities at Girls States are geared to awaken interest among young women, chosen by the school faculty, in the life of the community, state and nation.

Studies, lectures, meetings and actual participation is a major portion of each day. It is a week of friendly competition. The girls enrolled are citizens of a mythical state created just for them. Each girl is assigned to a political party, Whig or Tory, and to a city of from 32 to 36 girls. Several cities compose a county. All political counselors are qualified trained teachers. They live with the girls for the entire week. Citizenship, not politics, is emphasized at Girls State.

Girls State is a national program and at the conclusion of each state's session, two girls are selected to attend Girls Nation as the guests of the national organization of the American Legion Auxiliary, representing their state as Senators. Girls Nation is held in Washington, D. C. each year. The girls chosen for this great honor are given the opportunity to spend a week in our nation's Capitol with representatives from every other state, and to meet heads of government.

Girls State, through the national organization, has received a Freedom Foundation Award for outstanding achievement in bringing about better understanding of the American way of life.

Doll dressing time is here

Hundreds of dolls of all sizes and types have been repaired by handicapped job trainees at Goodwill Industries and now await preparation for the biggest doll event in this area--the "Doll-O-Rama."

The event, to be held in November at Trinity Episcopal Church, San Jose, is the annual doll show and tea sponsored by the ladies of Santa Clara County Pomona Grange No. 4 for the benefit of the unique vocational rehabilitation program of non-profit Goodwill Industries of Santa Clara County.

Women from all sections of the county will dress upwards of 1,000 dolls in gay and widely varied costumes, vying for awards in upwards of 20 separate categories, according to Mrs. C. Joseph Voss, "Doll-O-Rama" chairman.

Organizations or individuals who wish to participate may pick up dolls at Goodwill's Vocational Service Center, 46 Race St., San Jose, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. Dolls must be returned for the judging by November 1. Soon thereafter, winning dolls are selected by a panel of community leaders, and the "Doll-O-Rama" event follows.

Here's a new idea for chicken!

For a special family treat or a "prepare ahead of time" hostess.

Your market will bone, skin and flatten six chicken breasts. Cut each in half. Mix 1 cup cooked rice, 2 tablespoons chopped celery, 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion, 2 teaspoons chopped parsley, and 2 teaspoons chopped pimiento, seasoned salt and a dash of poultry seasoning and pepper and 2 tablespoons of sour cream together.

Sprinkle chicken breasts lightly with salt. Place 1/2 tablespoon of cold butter and 2 tablespoons of rice mixture in center of each chicken breast. Fold over breast in envelope fashion, folding narrow way first and then the long way.

Fasten with toothpicks. Beat 1 egg and 1/2 cup cream. Roll folded breasts in egg-cream mixture and then in a mixture of flour and cracker crumbs. Allow to stand 10 minutes before frying in deep fat (360 degrees F.) 15 minutes. Remove tooth picks. Serve with sour cream sauce.

QUICK SOUR CREAM SAUCE

Combine 1 can condensed Cream of Chicken Soup with 1 cup (1/2 pint) sour cream in small saucepan over low heat. Heat to just below boiling, stirring constantly.

These chicken breasts may also be put in the freezer after deep frying for a later date. Wrap in foil and place in plastic bag in freezer. To serve, remove covering and place in pan in moderate oven for about 1 hour. Serve with sauce.

Claudio Chamber orchestra to give concert

Cesare Claudio, one of the great cellists of the United States, will present a concert of his Claudio Chamber Orchestra, on Friday, July 21, at the Old Town Theater, 50 University Ave., Los Gatos. Guest artist will be Elayne Thompson, coloratura soprano.

In 1954 Claudio organized the Claudio Symphony Orchestra, as an outlet for musicians who desired to play great music. Most of the Claudio Symphony personnel are members of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, and some are leading musicians of the world today. During the last few years, Cesar Claudio has been studying with Pierre Monteux, at the Conductor's Master Class of the Domaine School of Conducting in Hancock, Maine.

He also teaches conducting at West Valley College in Campbell.

During World War II he returned to the San Francisco Symphony at the same time resuming his academic studies, taking his A.B. at the University of California, and his M.A. at San Francisco State College. He also worked with Dr. Hans Leschke, conductor-director of the San Francisco Municipal Chorus.

The Jaycettes visited with the patients at the Nursing Home and brought cupcakes decorated with American Flags. Jaycettes who made the visit were Mrs. Gail Dalzell, president, Mrs. Terry Norman, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Rose Gomes, publicity.

Lawyers Wives aid deserving law students

Lawyers Wives of Santa Clara County, through the Mary Kahle Memorial Scholarship fund, were able to award two $1,000 checks to deserving third year law school students this year. They also gave a $100 donation to the 7th Step Foundation, a group devoted to the rehabilitation of prisoners.

Lawyers Wives members teach sewing and knitting to the girls confined in Juvenile Hall. A gift of $125 for a heavy duty sewing machine was donated this year. Many hours are contributed by members working in the Legal Aid office each week. In addition Legal Aid was given a check for $225. These are just some of the many services provided by Lawyers Wives of Santa Clara County.

"Say it with Color"

Haircolor is magic. It is one of the most powerful mediums known to create beauty. Employed as a corrective, the imaginative use of color is unlimited.
A face can be widened, narrowed, made longer or shorter. Spotlighting with color can draw attention from one area and emphasize another.
A clever colorist, like a painter, first thinks of color value in terms of light and shadow and its effects on a woman's face. Hair frames the face. Larger or smaller frames are needed for different face shapes: Light frames enlarge the face, dark frames are more confining. The sketches below demonstrate the art of creating illusions with color.

The exact same face is used in sketches one and two to demonstrate the dramatic use of color.
1. A light frame surrounds the face, creating width and feminine softness. The darker hair through the crown area makes a tall girl appear shorter.
2. An illusion of height, making a shorter girl appear taller, Is echieved with highlights placed at the top of the head and extended to the sides. Darker hair, sometimes the patron's own natural color, frames the face.

Little League standings

All Little League players in District 44 are invited to attend "Little League Night" at the San Jose Bees Stadium in San Jose on Thursday, July 13, at 7 p.m. All boys in uniform will be admitted free.

There are 16 leagues in District 44 and each All Star team, their managers and coaches will be introduced on the field. There are 16 leagues in District 44 so a large turnout of boys is anticipated.

On Friday, July 14, at 11 a.m. Hobie Landreth, professional baseball star, will conduct a baseball clinic for boys between the ages of 7 and 17. Mike McCormick and Jim Davenport of the San Francisco Giants will also be present. The Clinic is sponsored by Spartan Volkswagon.

The Colts have captured the Moreland Major League pennant. The Campbell Major League championship will be determined by a play-off between Campbell Lumber and Buchholtz Chevron this week.

Fred W. Grinter of Breuner's, takes UF post

Fred W. Grinter, Breuner's Home Furnishers sales manager, has been appointed chairman of the Campbell commerce and industry division for the United Fund campaign this year, according to Dick Hardy, Campbell chairman.

As commerce and industry chairman, Grinter is responsible for the solicitation of more than 50 companies and their employees in the Campbell area. These businesses in the C and I division employ 10 or more persons.

The commerce and industry divisions in United Fund's Central Area have collected the major portion of the communities' goals each year. The CA commerce and industry divisions, which include Campbell and 10 neighboring communities, have a goal of $998,304 this year.

Campbell's C and I goal is $25,003, which is $3,419 more than last year's goal.

Grinter and his wife, Barbara, are residents of San Jose and have three daughters: Leann, 18; Laurie, 14; and Lynn, 6.

AMERICA'S CONCENTRATION CAMPS by Allan R. Bosworth

The shocking story of 110,000 Americans behind barbed wire - in the United States - during World War II. Their crime: Japanese ancestors. Allan Bosworth tells the little-known story of how prejudice, greed and wartime hysteria contributed to what has been called our "worse wartime mistake." He warns too, that it can happen again, today, given certain circumstances, to any group of citizens, whatever their racial or ancestral origins.

IT'S AN OLD COUNTRY, a novel by J.B. Priestley.

Priestly, England's most eminent man of letters, explores the feverish excitement, the decadence, the overwrought variety, of modern England--"swinging Britain." Seldom before has J.B. Priestley applied his picaresque fictional techniques to so alert and modern a subject-matter. It is a masterly piece of story-telling.

DOWN TO THE SEA IN SUBS, My life in the U.S. Navy, by Vice Admiral Charles A. Lockwood

This is the richly colored, action-filled autobiography of a Missouri country boy from the rolling prairies west of the Ozarks who heard and answered the call of the sea. And because Admiral Lockwood's life has been so closely intertwined with the development of the submarine as a weapon, it is also a biography of the U.S. Navy's Submarine Service and the development of the submarines itself. Lockwood was a resident of Monte Sereno, Calif. for many years before his recent death.

Letters to the Editor

CIVIC SPIRIT

EDITOR'S NOTE: Although the following letter was directed to the City Council, we feel that it is noteworthy because it shows the feelings of a public-spirited citizen who wants to help his city.

We are sure you will agree. --G.V.

To: The Mayor and Members of the City Council.

Gentlemen:

About six months ago you appointed me to a position on the City Planning Commission, to serve during the remainder of the term of Mr. James A. Tomlinson. Needless to say, I found this to be a very challenging responsibility, because of the long record of service and the thorough knowledge of our city which Jim held before his untimely passing.

Since my appointment, I have tried to acquaint myself with the many facets of information pertaining to the City of Campbell, because I believe that a complete awareness of pertinent facts is the most important ingredient in wise decisions. In my opinion the Planning Commission has an especially important responsibility in this regard as it draws up its recommendations for your consideration.

I now believe that the city of Campbell is ready to enter a period of exceptional progress. The public improvement projects now being planned, the 701 long range study, and the surge of public interest and participation shown by the Citizen's Advisory Committee are very promising evidence. All, however, will require very careful guidance and a lot of hard work before they come to fruition.

I should like to continue to contribute what I can toward making these many ventures successful. I therefore request that I be appointed to serve on the City Planning Commission for another term, beginning at the expiration of my present appointment August 1, 1967.

Sincerely,
Dean R. Chamberlin
Member, City Planning Commission

Lindstrom heads college trustees

Donald E. Lindstrom, principal of Foothill School in the Mt. Pleasant Elementary School District, and charter member of the West Valley College Board of Trustees, was named chairman of that board at last week's annual organizational meeting. Lindstrom just started his second term on the Board on July 1.

He succeeds Robert W. Brydon, Campbell, who has served as board chairman for the past two years. Brydon remains as a Board member. He is a rancher, farmer, and has been engaged in recent years in construction activities.

Lindstrom is a graduate of San Jose State College with a B.A. in Business Administration. He represents the Santa Clara Unified School District trustee area on the West Valley College board.

Another charter member and Santa Clara resident, Jack Armstrong, computor analyst for Lockheed Missiles and Space Corporation, was named vice-chairman of the Board, succeeding Lindstrom in that position.

Armstrong is a graduate of San Francisco City College and the University of Santa Clara alumnus.

Panelli, a Saratoga resident, and representative of the Los Gatos Joint Union High School District, received both his BA and his LLB from Santa Clara, and is most active in affairs of that University, serving as the only lay member of the University's Board of Trustees, and as a member of the University's Board of Regents.

The Board also named William J. Homan, who represents the Campbell Union High School District trustee area, as its representative to the Coordinating Committee on the Santa Clara County School Boards Association. Sorensen also is a representative of the Campbell Union High School District area on the West Valley College board.

VALUATION

The Board also received advance information which indicated that the total assessed valuation for the District for the 1967-68 fiscal year will likely be $605,289,970 or more, an increase over the 1966-67 figure of $576,448,210, by $28,841,760, or five per cent. The figure was also some $18,000,000 more than the amount of assessed valuation estimated in the proposed budget which has been tentatively adopted by the Board.

The Board also heard that the college had received a supplemental grant of $25,000 from the U.S. Office of Education for library purposes. Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president, said the grant, in addition to an expected basic $5,000 grant, to all junior colleges could be used for either supplementing present library facilities on the Campbell campus, or else used toward start of a second library, presumably to be constructed in the future on the Saratoga campus.

STATE GRANT

Dr. Hall also reported receipt of an additional $2,000 grant from the State Department of Education in N.D.E.A. funds for the college's microfilm library of periodicals. He pointed out that the college had originally requested a $13,000 grant, and had been first awarded $6,887, then another $2,000, plus the latest additional $2,000 "which came in the mail today." Trustee Jack Armstrong suggested that Dr. Hall "continue to open your mail."

OTHER ACTIONS

In other matters, the Board:

APPROVED financial claims totaling $246,526,81, which included first payments on newly-acquired "lend-lease" portable buildings being constructed on the temporary Campbell campus.

AGAIN extended recognition to three organizations at West Valley College--the West Valley College chapter of the California Teachers Association, Paul G. Graton, president; the West Valley Chapter of the California Junior College Faculty Association, J.R. Crandall, past president, and the Faculty Association of West Valley College, Gerald D. Shively, past president, and J.R. Crandall president.

AWARDED a contract for food service concession facilities on the Campbell campus to the De Paul Automatic Co., 715 Coleman Ave., San Jose, which estimated a high revenue return to the student body fund in commissions of $12,676. The contract extends over a five-year-period.

AUTHORIZED Dr. Hall to sign an agreement with the South West Expressway Golf Range for use of its facilities for golf classes next year, at a total cost of $903 for the Fall semester.

RENEWED an agreement with the Community Hospital of Los Gatos and Saratoga for continued use of its facilities for the licensed vocational nursing program of the college.

AUTHORIZED entering into an agreement with the County Superintendent of Schools for audio visual services next year, at a cost of approximately $1,825 to the District for expansion of its educational film library.

AUTHORIZED going to bid for the lease-purchase of electric typewriters and business machines for the new business education room being presently constructed on the Latimer avenue area of the campus.

AUTHORIZED appointment of Harold R. Skillman, Social Science as a faculty member for the current summer session, on a part-time or "as needed" basis, and named John J. Strucel, as an instructor in the Language Arts Division for the 1967-68 school year. Others named to the faculty for the new school year are Patricia J. Bennett, counseling and Psychology, and Rozanne E. Noon, history. The Board also appointed Josephine Anne Nigh as a secretary to the Dean of Business Services, and accepted the resignations of J. Emmet Murphy as Data Programmer, and Gary James as counselor-instructor.

THE BOARD appointed Leo A. Hull, 40, of 1195 Paula Drive, Campbell, to the newly-created position of Publications Coordinator for the college at a monthly salary of $782. He has many years of experience in the field of graphic arts.

41st infantry plans reunion

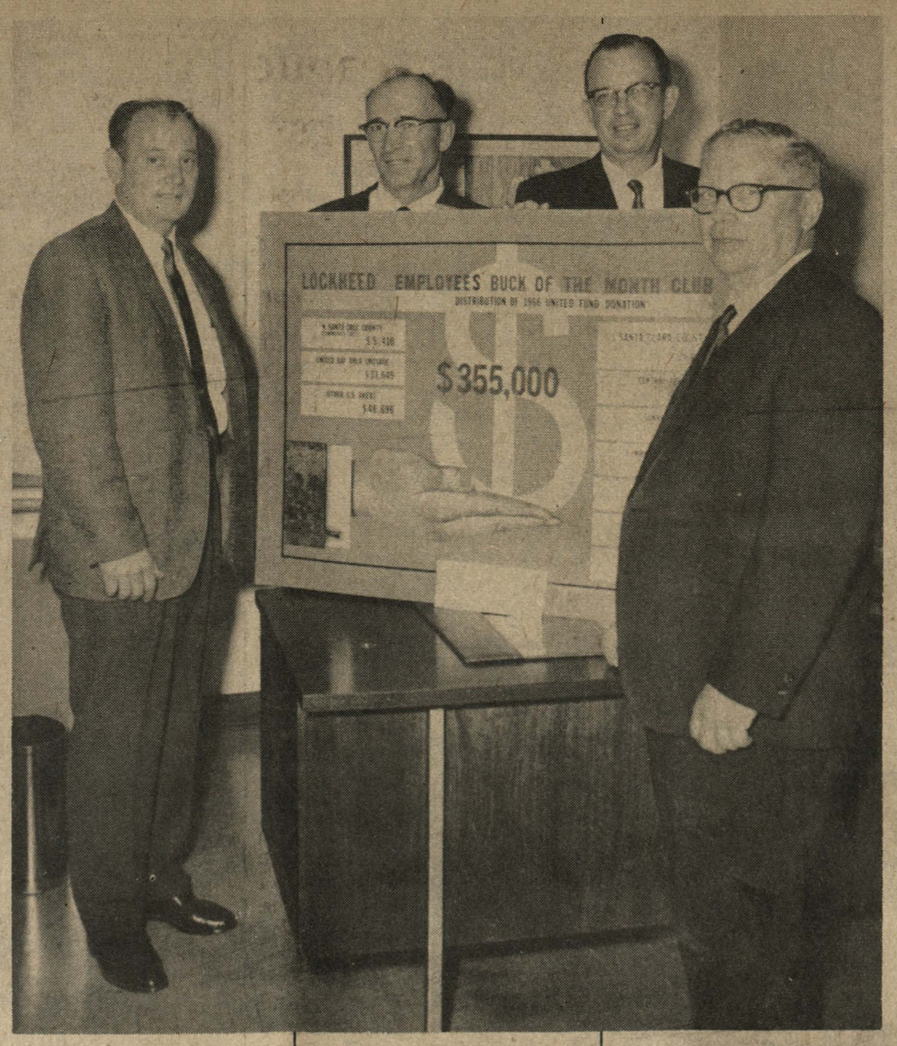
The 41st Infantry Division Association is formulating plans for their National Convention to be held in San Francisco July 28, 29 and 30, at the Sheraton Palace Hotel.

This association is made up of former members of the world famous Sunset division of the US Army. The fighting unit was the first full Army infantry division to be sent overseas in its entirety following the attack on Pearl Harbor. The entire division remained in the South Pacific for the duration of World War II.

A large contingent of Northern California men were assigned to this unit in late 1940 and early 1941, while the unit was stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash., prior to their departure for a historic meeting with enemy in the war zone.

The association holds no political views and has grown over the years in membership based on their motto: "To perpetuate friendships formed in combat."

Anyone interested in further information should contact Owen A. Peterson, 378-3676.



ANOTHER WORTHY CAUSE--Lockheed's "Buck of the Month Club" through which employees of the giant corporation donate to worthy causes, adds Campbell Community Hospital to the list. Here, E.E. Admire, administrator of the non-profit hospital, receives a $2,000 check from Ken Haggard, administrator or employee services for Lockheed. The funds will be used toward the $7,000 purchase of the hospital's coronary care unit. On hand were two former coronary patients and employees of the company, Ray Heapy of Campbell and W.E. Hoffman of Los Altos.

Campers with two vehicles now get break

Starting on July 10, at most state park campgrounds a family or group traveling in two vehicles and willing to share a campsite can now save either $2 or $1 a night, depending on the services provided.

Here's how it works:

The regular fee per vehicle per night at Type A campgrounds with modern restrooms and hot showers is $3. At Type B campgrounds with modern restrooms but no hot showers it is $2. Until now, a group with more than one vehicle but occupying only one campsite paid the regular fee for each vehicle.

Under a change ordered by State Parks and Recreation Director William Penn Mott Jr. the first vehicle will pay the regular fee but the second vehicle, either with or without a trailer, gets in for $1.

There are two qualifications. The vehicles must fit in their campsite's parking space, which generally will accommodate one car and an 18 ft. house trailer, and the rule of not more than eight persons to a campsite still stands.

The change does not affect Type C campgrounds, which generally do not have flush toilets, where the regular overnight fee per vehicle is only $1.

Chicago Fire

NEW YORK—The great Chicago fire, which occurred Oct. 8-10, 1871, destroyed 17,430 buildings and caused an estimated $175 million in damage, according to the Insurance Information Institute.

Freeways prove safest place to travel over "4th of July"

The 2150-mile California freeway system was the safest place in the state to drive during the four-day July 4th holiday.

Only 11 of the State's 63 traffic fatalities occurred on freeways although preliminary studies by the California Division of Highways reveal they carried over a fourth of the total miles driven.

State Highway Engineer John Legarra said Division statistics show that during any similar--but non-holiday four-day period--60 persons are killed.

Legarra believes that because of the good weather and the holiday, the average Independence Day trip was of longer distance than usual and this caused freeways to carry more of the load.

Gordon C. Luce, State Secretary for Business and Transportation, deplored the death toll but found encouragement in the lesser freeway toll.

"Freeways continue to provide the safest driving environment," said Luce.

In addition to the freeway deaths twenty-seven persons died in mishaps on conventional State highways and 38 on city streets and county roads. There are 14,500 miles of conventional State highways in California and the combined network of city streets and county roads adds up to another 150,000 miles.

The Division estimates that Californians drove more than 1.5-billion vehicle miles during the holiday period. Half the total was carried by the State highway system--with freeways and the much longer conventional State highway network dividing the load almost equally.

Single car crashes were the leading cause of death on the freeway with seven persons dying in five such mishaps.

Another death happened when a passenger was thrown from the rear of a pickup truck.

Only three of the freeway mishaps involved more than one vehicle. Death resulted when a truck and a motorcycle collided and two persons died when the cars in which they rode were engaged in rear end collisions.

Watch out for the other guy.

Drive Defensively

Lockheed donates to hospital

Lockheed's famed "Buck of the Month Club", an organization of its employees which makes contributions to worthy causes, has added Campbell Community Hospital to its list.

Ken Haggard, administrator of employee services for the huge missiles and space company, announced the donation of $2,000 to Campbell Community Hospital toward the $7,000 purchase price for its coronary care unit.

Funds have been raised throughout the community and by a golf tournament, for the unit, designed to keep constant watch on coronary patients in the hospital.

When he made the presentation of the $2,000 check to E.E. Admire, Campbell Community Hospital Administrator, Haggard was accompanied by two Lockheed employees with a special interest in the matter--two former coronary patients.

They were Ray Heapy of 240 Morrene Drive, Campbell, and W.E. Hoffman of Los Altos, personnel advisor to the company.

Other donations have come from the hospital's own medical staff, from anonymous sources, and from a wide variety of community organizations and individuals, Admire said.

Tourists like recreational type vehicles

Many tourists are now taking their own "motel room" with them in the form of a recreational vehicle.

According to the Bank of America, production of these vehicles has more than tripled over the past five years and is still increasing.

The latest issue of the bank's periodical, The Small Business Reporter, points out:

"Once the stepchild of the mobile home industry, the recreational vehicle industry is now rapidly developing its own separate identity, standards and objectives.

"Industry projections show that seven million recreational vehicles will be on the nation's roads by 1980."

The increasing popularity of motor homes, travel trailers, truck campers and tent trailers indicates a need for recreational vehicle parks, the bank study notes.

"Private recreational vehicle parks and campgrounds catering to travelers are new to California where some dozen are now in operation. These parks are still in the experimental stages, but two types are evolving: overnight and destination, the latter designed to appeal to travelers who will stay a week or longer.

"There is concern that trailerists will convert scenic camping areas into giant parking lots. Many state and federal campgrounds are already overcrowded, but the question of where the private developer fits in is still being debated.

"However, since almost half the land in California--including much of the prime recreation land--is publicly owned, it is possible that one of the ways the private developer may become part of the destination park picture is as a concessioner."

Copies of the report are available through the two Campbell Bank of America branches, Hamilton Ave. and Campbell Ave., according to Oscar Sorenson and Don R. Kennedy, managers.

WVC instructor loses wife in car accident

Gerald S. Shively, speech and English enstructor at West Valley and immediate past president of the Faculty Senate, is expected to be released from a Coos Bay, Ore. hospital this week, following an accident last week.

The grinding crash on the Coast highway at Brandon, near Coos Bay, caused the death of Shively's wife, Peggy, and two teen-agers in the other car, according to police.

The Shivelys were returning home to Los Gatos after visiting their two sons in Oregon. They resided at 17144 Mill Rise Way, Los Gatos. Mrs. Shively was killed, and Shively suffered a broken arm and broken ribs. Funeral services for Mrs. Shively were held in Oregon.

Obituaries

THOMAS FRANKLIN ELLS

Memorial services were held yesterday at the Congregational Church of Campbell for Thomas Franklin Ells, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryce F. Ells, 1121 S. Daniel Way, San Jose. Ells succumbed following a brief illness at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco.

Ells served in the United States Air Force and attended San Jose City College. At the time of his death he was employed by Stanford Applied Electronics. He is survived by three brothers and a sister, Steven, Richard, Kim and Christina Ells. Donations to Leukemia Research would be appreciated.

AUGUST W. STRIMPEL

Last rites were held at the Place Funeral Home in Los Gatos for August W. Strimpel, 67, who died following a brief illness recently. Strimpel had been employed as an engineer for Beatrice Foods in Los Gatos for 17 years. He resided at 1409 Juanita Way, Campbell.

He was a member of the Order of Eastern Star, No. 128 Los Gatos Chapter and of Scottish Rite Bodies. He was a veteran of World War II. His wife, Esther G. Strimpel, preceded him in death last year. He is survived by a stepson, Joe E. Moniot, San Jose, and a sister, Dorothea Deglar of Loveland, Colorado.

Rev. Bernhard Hansen of the Faith Lutheran Church in Los Gatos officiated at memorial services. Entombment was in Oak Hill Cemetery.

W. F. DAVENPORT

Funeral services were held yesterday at the Lima-Salmon-Erickson Memorial Chapel for Warner Fred Davenport, 66, of 89 W. El Caminito Ave. who succumbed last week after a long illness. A native of Michigan, he lived in Campbell for 20 years and was an Army veteran of World War II. Until his retirement several years ago, Davenport was manager of Lantz Lumber Mill in Santa Clara.

He is survived by his wife, Mary E. Davenport of Campbell; two daughters, Mrs. Kayetta Dillard of Campbell and Mrs. Judy Hagel of Santa Clara; and a nephew, Patrick McTighe of San Jose. Interment was in Los Gatos Memorial Cemetery.

Phone company warns about directory "ads"

"What appear to be bills bearing a Yellow Pages-type emblem are not being sent out by Pacific Telephone," according to Lee Sicard local manager.

One corner of the bill, Sicard said, bears an emblem resembling the familiar Yellow Pages emblem but contains the words "classified listings" instead of the telephone company's "Yellow Pages".

"We are in no way connected with the company sending out these bills", Sicard said.

Howard Emerson, president of the Better Business Bureau, said his office has been issuing warnings to its members for the past 14 months about the "bills."

He urged recipients of the bills to send them to postal inspectors at Box 910, Hollywood, California, 90028.

Grass Roots

Bougainvilleas are not native to California, but you wouldn't know it the way they grow in some areas of the state. Surely this South American vine qualifies as "nearly native", for it's been cultivated here since shortly after the mission padres moved north and established themselves in the Golden State.

Bougainvilleas are the most colorful of all vines, being clothed during much of the year with their brilliant cover of bloom. This bloom is not actually flower-bloom in the strictest sense, for it derives from showy bracts which surround the inconspicuous flowers themselves.

Recent years have brought some exciting changes in the color offered by bougainvilleas. Where once the magenta-flowered varieties were most commonly seen, gold, red, white and orange varieties are becoming ever more popular. Two of the most recent and most distinctive bougainvilleas ever grown are the white variety 'Jamaica White' and the beautiful red variety, 'Crimson Jewel'.

The latter is a shrub, not a vine, and therein lies a nice contradiction which has long marked the bougainvillea family. For gardeners have long debated whether the group is actually a shrubby vine or a vining shrub. If you are handy with pruning shears you can make bougainvillea do most anything you want.

In South America where they originated, the bougainvillea is often used as a hedge and sheared accordingly. A strong growing variety will cover a garden wall or smother a pergola with its color, yet most of them can be held back by pruning and grown as a pillar plant in a large tub or even as a ground cover. They're as flexible as your imagination in this respect.

The California Association of Nurserymen says that bougainvilleas have no particular cultural needs. They stand water or drought, need no food other than that which comes naturally in the soil. If you want the showiest, brightest color possible, the C.A.N. recommends withholding water as the plant comes into bloom. Keep it on the dry side for this period, then let the water fall where it might.

COOL STORKS

On hot days, storks cool their young by squirting water over them.

with "Charlie" Gubser

One thing in Washington is axiomatic--"There is nothing so permanent as a temporary government program."

Year after year the proponents of more powerful and centralized government find new human problems which always require the same solution--another "temporary" program. After fifteen years, I have yet to see one which did not continue on long after the problem which brought it into being had disappeared.

The Rural Electrification Administration (REA) is a good example. During the great depression of the early '30's, it was created for ten years only as an emergency measure to create employment and bring electricity to farm areas which could not be economically served by private utilities. That was thirty-one years ago.

Today almost every rural area in the country is served with electricity and five out of every six new customers of REA financed cooperatives don't live on a farm. Fully 48% of funds used by REA co-ops are for facilities which compete directly with taxpaying private utilties. Thus, government expansion of this outmoded "emergency" program is actually curtailing tax revenue.

The fiscal shell game which the U.S government has played with REA co-ops for many years, defies all common sense. Recently the national debt limit was extended to $365 billion and the government continues to borrow money in the open market paying as high as four or five percent interest. Then it engages in the ridiculous exercise of turning around to lend it to REA co-ops at 2% interest rates.

The REA's have little need for capital expansion since their original purpose of electrifying rural America has been achieved. Most of them have tremendous surpluses which they use to purchase government bonds instead of repaying their indebtedness to that same government. Can you imagine a bank loaning money at 2% interest and borrowing it back from the same person at 4%? Yet this is what American taxpayers are doing with REA co-ops. Instead of paying off their indebtedness ahead of the due dates, REA's have used surplus funds to build a Washington office building which they rent to the U.S. government at major profits.

The time has clearly come to abolish this "temporary" agency. But instead the REA appetite for even bigger servings from the public trough continues. The House Agriculture Committee has recently reported a bill authorizing annual appropriations of $50 million for the next fifteen years to finance an REA Electric Bank and a Telephone Bank to make loans to rural co-ops. These banks would loan federal money to co-ops for expansion at interest rates no higher than 4% over a term of fifty years.

Thus a temporary agency is still trying to expand many years after the problem it was created to solve has been eliminated. If this bill comes before the House, I for one will vote to make the Rural Electrification Administration the first example of a temporary program which finally came to an end.

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Q. - A friend of mine just signed up for medical insurance under Medicare. What benefits will she get for her $3 a month?

A. - If your friend gets sick, her medical insurance will help pay for: doctors' and surgeons' bills; other medical services and supplies; and home health services, such as part-time nursing care, even if there has not been any previous hospitalization.

Q. - What kind of medical services and supplies does medical insurance cover?

A. - Covered medical services and supplies include: X-ray and radium treatments; artificial legs, arms, and eyes; rental equipment, such as hospital beds, wheelchairs, or oxygen tents; surgical dressings, splints, and casts.

Q. - When a person has a doctor bill or other medical bill covered by medical insurance, how does he get his money back?

A. - There are two methods of claiming medical insurance benefits. First, is the payment to the doctor method. Under this method, the doctor sends in the claim and receives payment for that part of the bill covered by your medical insurance. The doctor would then bill you for your 20% share of the reasonable charge and any part of the $50 deductible not yet met.

The second method is the payment to the patient method. The patient pays the bill and completes the request for payment form, attaches the itemized bills, and sends it to the proper insurance carrier. The patient is then paid by the insurance carrier.

Q. - The only nursing home in my area serves persons of a small religious sect. I am not a member of the sect. Could they refuse to admit me because of this, and still be qualified to participate in the Medicare program?

A. - So long as the nursing home provides services to all members of the religion or organization, and the organization does not restrict its membership on the basis of race, color, or national origin, the nursing home would meet the non-discrimination requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act, and if it also met the quality standards in the Medicare Law, would be eligible to participate in Medicare.

LEGAL NOTICE

CAMPBELL UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT
Campbell California
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
CONSTRUCTION OF WILLIAMS CONTINUATION HIGH SCHOOL
Williams Road, San Jose, California

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Trustees of the Campbell Union High School District of Santa Clara County, California, hereby invites and will receive sealed proposals for the furnishing of all labor and materials for construction of WILLIAMS CONTINUATION HIGH SCHOOL, Williams Road, San Jose, California, for the CAMPBELL UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT, 1945 Winchester Boulevard, Campbell, California.

Written bids must be submitted not later than Wednesday, July 26, 1967, at 2:00 p.m. at the Campbell Union High School District Administration office, 1224 Del Mar Avenue, San Jose, California.

Work must be done in strict accordance with plans and specifications prepared by Birge M. Clark, Walter Stromquist, David F. Potter, and Joseph Ehrlich, Architects, 3200 Hanover Street, Palo Alto, California. Plans are obtainable at the office of Clark, Stromquist, Potter, and Ehrlich, Architects, 3200 Hanover Street, Palo Alto, California. A deposit of $50.00 per set will be required from all contractors receiving plans, said deposit to be returned when plans and specifications are returned in good condition.

All bids are to be made out on forms furnished by the Architect. No verbal, telegraphic, or telephonic bids or modifications thereof will be considered. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of forty-five (45) days after the time set for the opening thereof.

The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids, or any Bid Items or combination of Bid Items, it being the Board's intention to accept the lowest bid on the total of all Bid Items, but it is possible that for financial reasons certain Bid Items must be rejected, and in that event the Board will accept the lowest combination of those Bid Items which they can accept. The Board also reserves the right to waive any informality in any bid received.

Bidders desiring information or explanation concerning any portion of the work during the time of estimating may obtain the same by making application to the Architect with the provision that such requests for explanation shall be placed with the Architect at least seven (7) days before the date set for the submission of the bids.

No bids will be accepted from, or a contract awarded to, any party or firm in arrears to the District or who is a defaulter as surety, contractor, or otherwise. No bid will be accepted from a contractor who has not been licensed in accordance with the provisions of the Contractors' License Act of the State of California.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check, cashier's check, or bidder's bond, made payable to the order of the Campbell Union High School District, in the amount of ten per cent (10%) of the tendered bid as a guarantee that the bidder will, after being notified of the acceptance of his bid, enter into a contract with the Board in accordance therewith and file the necessary bonds as called for in the specifications.

The work to be performed under this contract shall be substantially completed within the time limit as set forth in the Specific Conditions of the specifications.

No alien shall be employed in the work. Workmen employed in the work must be paid not less than the latest prevailing scale of wages adopted by the Board of Supervisors of Santa Clara County and are as follows:

Planners to act on pool tables

Campbell Planning Commission next Monday, July 17, is scheduled to act on the first application under the new city ordinance regulating pool tables in bars and taverns.

Quattuor Investments has applied for a use permit to allow a billiard parlor on property at Hacienda near Winchester. The firm had previously applied for a use permit to allow four pool tables in connection with a restuarant and bar at the location.

The city ordinance specifies only one table per bar or tavern. So the orginal application was denied.

The new application eliminates any mention of a bar or tavern.

Other matters on next Monday's agenda include the application of Lowell Benson, of Campbell Cleaners at its new location at 507 E. Campbell for a canopy to be used for drive-in customer pick-up service.

The commission is also expected to consider the request for annexation (Lovell) for property on Crockett between Elam and Westmont in San Tomas and also the request of Mrs. Maude Smith, of San Tomas Village, for a service station at 885 S. San Tomas Aquino Road.

MORE ABOUT

City to get library (?)

that it is necessary for the supervisors to act promptly on the matter because of the pending deadline to get the issue on the ballot.

It was first thought that the supervisors would take action this week on the proposed agreement. But Don Fuller, assistant county librarian, informed the council Monday night that he understood the supervisors would defer action until next week.

It was also pointed out that the City of Campbell should not encumber its bond indebtedness for the library facility until the executed agreement with Santa Clara County has been consumated.

Councilman Rose explained also that the lease agreement with the county would allow the city to definitely locate the library building in the civic center area and thus initiate the much-needed revitalization movement for the so-called "downtown core".

The very last thing.

Stop signs don't stop cars. Drivers stop cars. Make sure you do and make sure he has. There's very little satisfaction in being dead right when you're dead.

TIME OUT FOR EATS--West Rincon Homeowners Assn. gathered together for a barbecue and fireworks display neighbors who enjoyed in Middletown Court. the first annual Fourth Here is one group of of July get-to-gether.

FIRECRACKER--Nine year old Holly Wheeler, 2310 Montezuma Dr. attracted attention in her firecracker costume at the West Rincon Homeowners Assn. Kiddie Parade.

PARTICIPANT--Nancy Hess, seven-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hess, 2231 Wren Way, has her pet snake in the cage she is pulling. Nancy was one of the many participants in the Kiddie Parade.

Approximately 125 youngsters turned out for the Fourth of July Kiddie Parade sponsored by the West Rincon Homeowners Association. The event was so successful, it is expected to be an annual event. Parents and neighbors lined the sidewalks to view the colorful costumes, decorated bikes, wagons and pet parade.

The event started at 10:30 a.m. with the children lining up on Wren Way. The parade proceeded down Wren Way to Acapulco, then up to Middletown Drive before the reviewing stand in Middletown Court. Prizes were awarded to the four top winners: Duane Hayes, the most patriotic costume; Penny Hess, best costume; Peter Thibault, best wheel decoration and Carla Mesquita, best pet.

A barbecue was held at 4 p.m. for the families in the area. Picnic tables and portable barbecue stands were set up in Middletown Court with each family providing their own food. At dusk the families pooled their fireworks and enjoyed a spectacular display to celebrate Independence Day.

The West Rincon Homeowners Association welcomes new members. Anyone interested, and living in that area is invited to contact Fred Sciboula, 293-7871 days.
